7:00 pm The Karlie McKinnon Band

Karlie McKinnon and Paul Timothy have been making their way in the indie folk, folk-pop scene for a little over a year.

Karlie has been playing and writing music before her age hit double digits and she's been singing before anyone can remember. A student at Weber State University, Karlie just released her first demo album in January. Paul has been dedicated to his guitar for many years and is a fantastic player. Paul currently teaches math at Northridge High School. Paul plays the guitar and sings and Karlie plays the piano and guitar and sings. Together they're a duo that shouldn't be missed!

8:00 pm "Colors" Concert

What do you call an acoustic pop group who started performing at a high school assembly, then started their own label, and recorded four CDs before finishing college? The answer is simply "Colors." Russ Dixon, Ryan Merrill, and Brian Tibbets first sang their song "Rain" at an assembly at Davis High School in 1994. After their debut, the guys timidly recorded 500 copies of their first CD, "No Time in Particular," at the request of friends and family. When their backpacks were sold out of those first 500, they made 500 more, which sold out just as quickly. Colors expanded their performance venue from colleges and high schools local to Utah and Idaho to audiences in Norfolk, VA, and even Thailand. Their audiences are energetic, enthusiastic and appreciative of their sentiments. Colors performed their farewell tour in Orem in 2001 and it is rare for them to make a performance, but they are thrilled to be reuniting in their hometown, where it all started, for Farmington Festival Days 2010.
